READING THE CROSS TABULATION TABLES

The cross tabulations found in this report are presented in a “banner table” format. Categories of respondents (e.g. “35-54 years old,” or “Female”) are listed across the top of each page (the “banner”). The questions asked in the survey are listed down the left margin. The figures in the cells are percentages based on the number of respondents in the category at the head of each.

3 The following are some issues the legislature is expected to address in the coming session. First, Washington has a new capital gains tax and a carbon pricing and cap-and-trade system. These two programs, plus other taxes, have added more than one billion dollars to state revenue – more money than expected. As a result, the legislature will decide what to do with this budget surplus. In your opinion what would be the best response to :

ROTATE

55 Put more money into schools, reducing homelessness, mental health programs, and combating the effects of climate change.

7 Keep spending at the current level and put the additional money into the reserves, even if that means cuts in some programs.

30 Keep spending at the current level and use any additional money to reduce taxes, even if that means cuts in some programs

7 NO OPINION

4 The following are some proposals that the legislature is expected to discuss in the coming weeks. As I read each of these items, please indicate whether you Favor, Strongly Favor, Oppose or Strongly oppose each one. The first item is...

	SF	FAV	OPP	SO _p	DK
A Repeal the state’s new capital gains tax.	40	17	12	17	15
B Eliminate some restrictions on when police can pursue criminal suspects in cars.	41	25	12	13	9
C Put more money into mental health programs and funding to curb opioid use.	43	41	6	6	4
D Put more money into housing and other programs to address homelessness.	39	27	14	14	5
E Give parents authority to review public school textbooks, student discipline and health records and to opt their kids out of sex education.	41	19	15	16	9
F Give rebates on utility bills for lower income households.	37	38	13	7	6

5 The State Public Disclosure law says that state agency documents, including emails, should be available to the public. The State Legislature, claiming legislative privilege, says emails, texts and other communications to and from legislators are exempt from the disclosure law and are not required to be made public. However, the State Supreme Court has ruled that legislators are subject to the public records act. As you see it, should state lawmakers:

9 Be exempt from public disclosure laws

82 Comply with public disclosure laws
